

Please don't mess with Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law.

I have appreciated so much the reduced number of bothersome calls. Not only has it made our evening family life less hectic, it has almost eliminated the frustration and rage I felt at being interrupted in my own home by people trying to talk me in to giving them money for something I don't want.